5:00. UA

Performance produced as part of the residential program of the Forum of Theatre Directors of the Silesian Voivodeship (Ukraine, Poland)

"05:00. UA" is a performative statement with elements of physical theatre and singing. Employing the verbatim technique – a monologue by the participants in the performance – they explore their way from Ukraine to Poland in search of shelter from the war that Russia has unleashed on their country. The women form a choir that reflects and comments on their feelings as they are forced down the path of war and on the sudden, tragic change in the lives of the performance's protagonists. Most of the text of "05:00. UA" was written by its participants, who are representatives of the performing arts in Ukraine.
